Provides access to innovative companies continuing to drive growth:

- The NASDAQ 100 Index has had strong performance vs. S&P 500® Index
- Large- and mega-cap companies with sound fundamentals • The potential benefits of continued innovation across sectors

Decades of strong large-cap performance

Both growth stocks and broad equity markets have performed well over the past decade. Invesco NASDAQ 100 Index ETF - CAD Hedged has outperformed the S&P 500 CAD-Hedged Index by providing access to leading large-cap growth companies at the forefront of innovation.¹

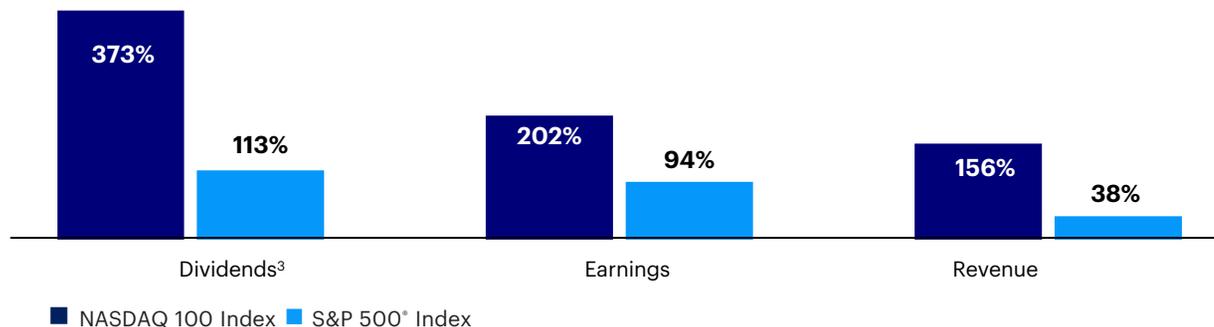

Total Cumulative Return (6/30/2011 to 03/31/22).

The above chart is presented for the purposes of illustrating the long-term performance of large-cap growth markets versus the broader market over time. Index performance is not indicative of fund performance, nor is it an indication of how a fund could or will perform. An investment cannot be made directly into an Index. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

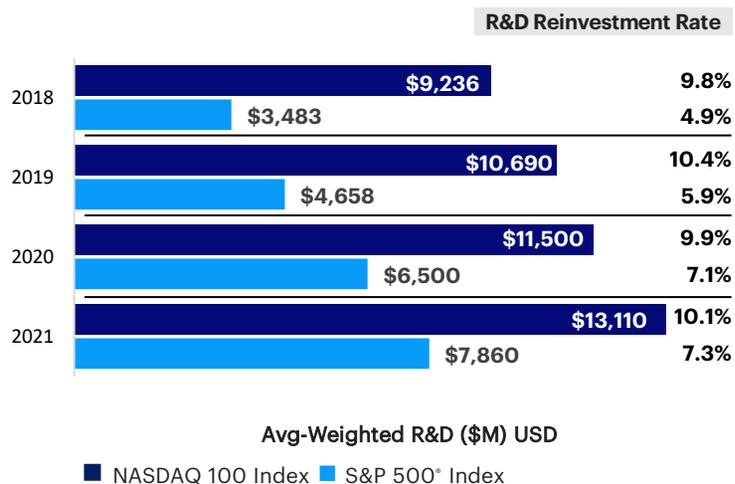

Fundamentally sound

The NASDAQ 100 Index provides access to large- and mega-cap companies that have shown higher historical growth rates — resulting in outperformance against industry benchmarks (10-year growth rates in USD).²

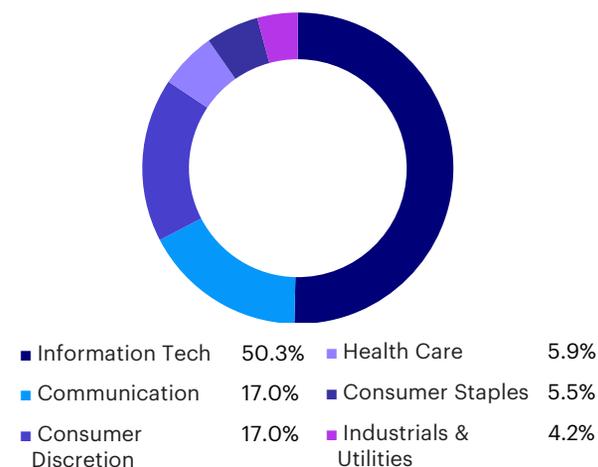

Committed to innovation through investment

A key measure of a company's commitment to innovation is research and development spending. Companies in the NASDAQ 100 Index continue to reinvest in their own development at a high rate.⁴

Innovation beyond tech

Today innovation spurs growth and efficiency across the economy. The breadth of this impact is reflected in the NASDAQ 100 Index's diversification well beyond the technology sector.⁵

There are risks involved with investing in ETFs. Please read the prospectus for a complete description of risks relevant to the ETF. Ordinary brokerage commissions apply to purchases and sales of ETF units. The Invesco ETF seeks to replicate, before fees and expenses, the performance of the applicable index, and is not actively managed. This means that the sub-advisor will not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets and the ETF will continue to provide exposure to each of the securities in the index.

Most Invesco ETFs seek to replicate, before fees and expenses, the performance of the applicable index, and are not actively managed. This means that the sub-advisor will not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets and the ETF will continue to provide exposure to each of the securities in the index regardless of whether the financial condition of one or more issuers of securities in the index deteriorates. In contrast, if an Invesco ETF is actively managed, then the sub-advisor has discretion to adjust that Invesco ETF's holdings in accordance with the ETF's investment objectives and strategies.

The mutual fund described above invests in securities of QQQM. Series PTF and Series F is available only to eligible investors who have fee-based accounts with their dealer and whose dealer has signed an Invesco Series F or Series PTF Dealer Agreement with Invesco Canada. Sales charges and trailing commissions are not payable for Series F or Series PTF units/shares; however, investors may pay other fees to their dealer for investment advice and other services.

Commissions, management fees and expenses may all be associated with investments in exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and mutual funds. Trailing commissions may be associated with investments in mutual funds. Unless otherwise indicated, rates of return for periods greater than one year are historical annual compound total returns including changes in unit value and reinvestment of all distributions, and do not take into account any brokerage commissions or income taxes payable by any unitholder that would have reduced returns. ETFs and mutual funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated. Please read the prospectus before investing.
